

1999 Lugnaquilla results

John Lenihan and Nina Phillips persevere though a wide range of elements - mostly mist, wind, rain, and hail - defeat them and the rest of an ultimately bedraggled field to take the first race of the Leinster Championships on Lugnaquilla. Thanks to the thick mist, many others take an unplanned tour of Wicklow mountains that weren't on the route of the race. Experienced mountain runners who shall remain nameless discovered that, in zero visibility, one clump of heather looks exactly like the next. Well done everybody on your determination - despite the odds!!
